

I do not support so called 'broadcast flag' or other anti-copying technologies in any form. Almost all of my television viewing is time-shifted due to my personal schedule. Implementation of these technologies in digital television will thus prevent me from watching programs limited by this technology. I do not believe this technology will significantly impact copyright infringement by knowledgeable digital 'pirates'. I do believe this technology will essentially destroy my fair-use rights and my ability to transition to HDTV. Thank you for your consideration.
